Sponsorship Contribution Acknowledgment

Help another woman take her next step

This acknowledgment explains a voluntary sponsorship contribution to Crowned With Purpose (CWP) toward another woman's curriculum participation. It is a sponsor record, not a mentoring intake, participant agreement, or automatic enrollment. Complete the contribution details before signing.

A full curriculum sponsorship is currently $1,025, including the participant's workbook and reflection journal. A smaller contribution may be combined with other support to fund a place. The contribution accepted is only the amount recorded above. This acknowledgment creates no recurring payment, automatic charge, additional balance, or promise to cover future fees.

Allocation and participation

Reta coordinates cleared-payment verification, recipient selection or confirmation, curriculum fit, availability, and enrollment. Discuss a particular intended recipient with Reta before paying; the recipient must choose whether to participate. A requested allocation is subject to written confirmation. Payment alone does not reserve a date or guarantee participation, placement, completion, or a particular outcome.

A sponsored participant completes her own appropriate intake and participant agreement and confirms her start date with CWP. The sponsor is not made the participant, guardian, employer, coach, or decision-maker by contributing. Sponsorship does not purchase a teaching credential or a license to CWP curriculum.

Privacy and payment understanding

Sponsorship does not give access to a participant's identity, contact information, intake, prayer requests, session records, private story, or progress. Any voluntary disclosure requires appropriate specific permission. No photograph, publicity, or testimony release is included. Keep private mentoring and health details out of payment references.

CWP operates as an LLC and does not represent sponsorship payments as tax-deductible charitable contributions. A Stripe confirmation or this acknowledgment is not a charitable tax receipt. The sponsor should keep the actual payment confirmation and seek independent tax advice if needed.

Changes refunds and concerns

A voluntary change of mind does not create a refund after CWP has applied the contribution to an agreed sponsored place, except where law requires otherwise. Before allocation, contact CWP promptly about a change or mistake. If CWP cannot apply the contribution to the confirmed purpose, CWP will contact the sponsor to agree on another allocation or return the unapplied amount. CWP will not silently substitute a materially different purpose.

The participant's withdrawal does not itself transfer her private records to the sponsor or authorize another charge. Any unresolved or unused allocation is addressed with the sponsor under the accepted written arrangement and applicable law. Nothing limits rights for services not provided, misrepresentation, payment disputes, or other rights that cannot lawfully be waived.

Acknowledgment and signatures

The sponsor has read the completed amount and allocation, may ask questions, and can keep a copy. Electronic signing is optional; contact CWP for a paper alternative. No payment is processed by signing this document. Routine questions: hello@crownedwithpurpose.co.
